Coun. Stewart left for the east on Thursday to act as immigration agent for this district. Mr Stewart will spend some time in Toronto and Montreal, after which he will visit the Maritime Provinces. He took with him a number of samples of grain, grasses, etc., grown in this district. We have no doubt but that Mr Stewart will give a good account of himself and that he will secure a goodly number of the right kind of settlers from the different provinces he may visit.

On Tuesday last D. D. G. C. Bro. R Buckley installed the officers for the ensuing term of Rupert Council No 4 R. T. of T. Though new to the business, Bro. Buckley got through the duties in a highly creditable manner. The report to the Grand Council showed the membership of this council to be 115 members in good standing. Which proves that greater activity than usual has prevailed amongst the members last term, and that progress will be the watchword for the present term may be seen by the fact that some fifteen new applications have been received and accepted at the first meeting of the Council.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From our Regular Correspondent)

Washington, D.C., Dec. 27, 1892.

Great Britain is building a fleet of so-called revenue cutters for service on the great lakes. The first—the Constance—was launched late in 1891 and others are under way and some of them near completion. They are provided with a ram bow and an arrangement of bunkers to protect the machinery from shot. The hulls are constructed to admit the mounting of fourteen pounder Maxim Nordenfeldt guns. A naval officer says: It will be at once apparent that either the Constance, Petrel, or Curlew is singly more than a match for our combined lake force, which consists of the revenue cutters Perry, Johnson, and Fessenden, with the old Michigan—the only naval vessel allowed on the lakes by the treaty of 1817—thrown in, and in event of war these three British revenue cutters, even if no more were built, could sink those old side wheel hulks quickly. England has at command a fleet of 93 nineteen-knot, torpedo and gunboat cruisers which could be lightened and buoyed through the Welland Canal. There is some ground for the statement that the secret building of these new gun boats—nee revenue cutters—is tantamount to a threat. The Chicago Board of Trade memorialized Congress about the time the Constance was launched on the subject of lake defenses, and there has since been much quiet talk among Congressmen and in naval and military circles on the way in which Great Britain is surrounding us with guns and fleets. Many however see in all this only an exhibition of fear and believe England desires simply to be let alone, or to please the Canadian Government.

Since the treaty of 1817 the question of its proper observation has been often discussed diplomatically, Great Britain being the complaint generally. British minister Packenham and Calhoun suggested in 1844 that the Michigan on one side and the Cherokee and Mohawk on the other were too warlike under the treaty. The Michigan was built at Pittsburgh and carried in pieces to Lake Erie. Ten or twelve years later Lord Napier and Lewis Cass talked back at each other over a certain "American armed vessel that lies on the Detroit river and makes frequent incursions into the lakes." In 1858 complaint was made of six armed U.S. revenue cutters. In 1861 Seward pacified Napier on the subject of the Michigan. In 1864 the revenue cutters were again the subject of official correspondence and Seward gave six month's notice of abrogation of the treaty which Lord Lyon "viewed with alarm." The notice was withdrawn by Seward. To-day we are in the condition of the citizen who does not own or carry a gun nor even a cane and never thinks of picking up a brick, who lives next door to a chap that always has a gun behind his door, a revolver at each hip and a knife in his boot. Great Britain could take possession of our entire lake coast line in a few hours She probably won't until after the fair. It wouldn't look well and then there is no reason why we should not speak to her civilly and avoid a quarrel.

John M Loyd who rented Mrs. Surratt's tavern at Surrattsville in 1864 and was a chief witness against the Lincoln murder conspirators, died in this city last week His testimony told fearfully against Mrs. Surratt though he always maintained her innocence of the plot to murder. Monday before the assassination Loyd met Mrs. Surratt, who told him that the weapons concealed by John H. Surratt and others would be wanted soon. On the fatal night Booth and Herold called at Loyd's place for the weapons. Herold going in for them and for whiskey while Booth with a broken leg sat in the dark on the white horse which was shot a week after among the scrub pines of the lower Potomac to silence his neighing.

CAN YOU TELL A Sponge?

WHEN YOU SEE IT.

Probably you couldn't if you were to see one in the natural state. One would, not recognize in the dark—almost black—substance full of mud, sand and shells the light yellow soft affairs of our shops. The network of elastic fibres which remains behind after the living matter has been removed is the skeleton of the animal which is the sponge of commerce. There is a great difference in sponges. If you are not a judge come into our store the next time you want something in our line and we will gladly post you. Every kind is represented. PRINCE ALBERT, JAN. 11, 1893.

APPEAL FOR JUSTICE.

It is admitted by all that the North West Mounted Police have done excellent service in the past in the North West, and that they are an efficient and able body of men, no one will attempt to deny. Their right to script for services rendered during the late rebellion has not yet been recognized by the authorities at Ottawa. They did much towards the suppression of that unfortunate disturbance and should receive the same recognition from the Federal Government that the Militia received. It is to be hoped that the Federal authorities will consider the claims of the N. W. M. Police and mete out to them the same justice already extended to their fellow soldiers of the militia for the active part they took in the suppression of the late rebellion. A resolution by the members of the North West Assembly to the Federal authorities was unamiously adopted at the session of the Legislature just closed, requesting that scrip be granted to the Mounted Police.

The question of the imposition of wood and hay permits by the Dominion Government through their officials in Prince Albert is a living burning question in this district. There are millions of cords of dry woyd north of the North Saskatchewan rotting upon the ground and yet our citizens are expected to pay twenty five cents a cord for the privilege of clearing it away. It would be a public benefit to have all the dry fallen timber cleared out from the midst of the green trees; and yet we have to pay the government in order to be allowed to take a cord of it. A grosser and more unjust imposition upon a long-suffering people it would be hard to conceive. We have trials and hardships enough in this far off country without being imposed upon by our government. The amount of money thus raised is insufficent, we believe, to pay the officials who are employed to collect it. And it would pay the government to dispense with the services of the said officials or send them elsewhere, at the same time relieving the people of the appressive and unreasonable imposition of which we complain. We are glad to hear that the Board of Trade have taken up the matter and trust that the Town Council will do the same. Now that we have a new Minister of the Interior who may be supposed to sympathize with the wants and difficulsies of the Northwest, every effort should be made to relieve our settlers of an oppressive tax which has nothing whatever to justify it.

Similiar remarks might be made regarding the hay tax. We have a noble country for stock-raising; everything; in reason, should be one to encourage it. But people who want to cut hay on the government lands are met with an imposition which practically prohibits the using of the wild hay of the country. Instead of thus discouraging the ranching enterprise of the country the government ought to do everything possible to encourage settlers in increasing their stock. Why should we bring people into the country and then handicap their enterprise in the very industry for which the country is best fitted? This question we would commend to the leaders of our government.

We earnestly hope that both of these matters will be baought to the attention of the Dominion authorities so effectually that the evils complained of will be removed.

France is very unfortbnate. President Grevy, old in years and honors, went down under the load of Wilson scandals, for which he was uot personally responsible. Count de Lesseps and President Carnot, Ministers Clemenceau, Constans and Rouvier, appear now to be sinking under the terrible Panama revelations.

Uncle Sam's revenue is somewhat attenuated this year. The Democrats are going to find it hard to reduce the tariff and keep the establishment going.

COMMISSIONER TO WORLD'S FAIR.

Senator Perley has been appointed Territorial Commissioner to the World's Fair at Chicago. Mr. Perley is well and favorably known throughout the North West and is one of her most unswerving friends. He is a practical and successful farmer, and there is no doubt his appointment will be a popular one and that he will prove the right man for such an important position.

BRIDGE AND ROAD EXPENDITURE.

The principle of dividing equally among the various members of the North West Legislature the amount appropriate to the Roads and Bridges is a very nnjust one to the larger districts, and the expenditure of that money by the representatives themselves is equally objectionable. In discussing this matter in the Legislative Assembly, the remarks by the member for South Qu'Appelle had the right ring ab ut them when he said: "that he thought a competant Commissioner of Public Works should be appointed, one who could draft all sorts of plans and whose knowledge and judgement would be a practical value to the House and to the country." Such a system for the expenditure of a large sum of money must sooner or later be adopted in justice to every part of the Territories and the members themselvest

Switzerland is angry with the French rejection of an international treaty and threatens reprisals. "Effete monarchies" could not quarrel with greater cordiality than do these two "enlightened republics."

Mr. Cornelius Hertz; who bagged at least 2,000,000 francs of the Panama canal money, is a German by birth, an American by citizenship, a Chicago doctor by profession and a Parisan by residence. His qualifications would carry him anywhere.

News comes from far-away Queensland, in Australia, of an agreement, signed, sealed and delivered, by which Brisbane, the capital of that Colony, is to de connected by cable to New Caledonia, Fiji, Samoan, the Sandwich Islands, and Vancouver. During the middle of November, according to an interview with that gentleman recorded in the Brisbane Couries, Hon. Audley Coote. M.L-C.; of Tasmania, had a conference with the Postmaster General of Queensland, and acting on behalf of La Societe des Telegraphes Sousmarins, exchanged the executed contracts for the proposed cable.

MEETING of PRESBYTERY.

A pro re nata meeting of the Presbytery of Regina was held in Moose Jaw on Wednesday, Dec. 28th, 1892. There were present Messrs. Carmichael (moderator), McMillan and Clay, ministers, and R. K. Thompson, Elder. Rev. A. McTavish of Brandon Presbytery being present was invited to co respond. The conduct of the moderrtor in calling the Presbytery being approved, the call from Knox Church, Perth, to Rev. Mr. Clay was considered. The call which was signed by 309 communicants and 60 adhreants being read with relative documents, Mr. McTavish was heard in support of it. Commissioners from the congregation of Moose Jaw were next heard and afterwards Mr McTavish in reply. The call was then placed in Mr Clay's hands when he asked for an adjournment until the afternoon before expressing his mind. This was granted and at a latter sederunt he signified his desire to remain in his present charge. On motion this decision was approved and sympathy with the congregation of Knox Church. Perth, expressed. The Presbytery then adjourned.

Baker was elected to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Macarthur's resignation. At a subsequent meeting of the Board Mr. T. O, Davis was elected chairman, and Mr. J. M Coombs re-elected Secretary of the Board.
